

Nursing.
It's real. It's life.

The ER drama
rarely stops.

When you're a Nurse on a real-world Emergency Room team, like Jeff Jefferies, there's no shortage of excitement. But here, the lives saved are real. And the satisfaction of making a life-or-death difference is overwhelming. The career opportunities are outstanding, too. Jeff's Nursing skills have taken him from the U.S. Navy, to Israel to help establish that country's first Triage system, to a Red Cross disaster team as a Nurse volunteer. Want to know more?
